SACRED HEART MISSION

The Sacred Heart Mission in St. Anne's church this week, June 10-17, conducted by Rev. George F. Bradley, S.J., has far surpassed the most sanguine hopes of even the most enthusiastic.

The devotions are held each evening in the opera house at 7.30, and always to a full house, not only of Catholics, but of non Catholics as well. Each morning, masses are at 6.15 and 8.00, at which there is instruction also.

Father Bradley is a very clear and forcible speaker, leaving no doubt whatever in the minds of his hearers as to the exposition of the truths of that grand old church.

This evening, Father Bradley will speak on "The Christian Home;" Friday evening, "The Great Gift of the Holy Eucharist," and Saturday evening, "The Mercy of God."

Sunday morning the first Mass will be in the church at 8.30; the second, a High Mass, in the opera house at 10.30, at which the sermon will be on "Holy Mass, the Great Gift."

Sunday evening at 7.30, in the opera house, Father Bradley will speak on "Faith and Perseverance." This will mark the closing of the Mission. All creeds are very welcome to attend, non-Catholic as well as Catholic.

"Praised be Jesus Christ in the Eucharist."

SUCCESSFUL CONCERT AT HILLCREST

The choir girls of St. Theresa's church, Hillcrest, assisted by their friends, put on a pretty concert in the Miners' Hall on Monday evening.

The programme was a nice variety of chorus and solo work, while the time between the sketches was filled in with instrumental work, in which Betty Stutchbury, Josie Norton, Connie Robinson, Peggy Richards, Betty Ironsides and Allie Greener presented some of their examination musical work.

The concert opened with a colorful adaptation of the Gypsy Caravan, in which gypsy stage-setting and quaint richly-colored gypsy costumes made the right atmosphere for the folk-like songs and sprightly dances of the maidens among the romany folks.

The accomplished little artists appearing in that and the following sketches were: Maggie Truba and Agnes, Vincent Casagrande, Ellen Jones, Annie Linnick, Irene Belopotosky, Mary Yakubiec, Irene Ferby, Lorna Balkwell and Edith Marland.

The next sketch was entitled, "Song of the Fair." Quaint costumes of olden days lent variety to this piece. Then followed the "Quaker Maid," and, after a rapid change, the very funny Chinese sketch, "Ah Fie," with Agnes Truba in the stellar role. Agnes distinguished herself at the Blairmore festival, and she did not disappoint her friends in "Ah Fie." Two choruses from the musical comedy, "Going Up," brought the concert to a close. Altogether the children showed fine theatrical talent, and their work pleased and delighted the large audience. Dancing was indulged in for an hour or so after the concert.

The whole programme was under the direction of Mrs. Percy Salt.

A letter from the Coleman council requesting backing in the fight with the government over finishing the Crows' Nest road was read. The local council decided it would be best to turn this matter over to the Board of Trade. However, the Board of Trade in both provinces have been fighting this matter for years without visible result so far. The trouble seems to be that each province wants to build their road in such a place that the ends do not meet at the boundary and neither is ready to give in to the

NO CAUSE DISCOVERED FOR MINER'S DEATH

The inquest into the death of John Cotton, who died in the Mohawk mine at Bellevue last week, concluded before Coroner F. J. Turner here on Monday night, when after a thorough investigation the jury found no cause other than natural for the man's demise.

The jury consisted of the following: C. J. Tompkins, chairman; John A. Kerr, W. W. Scott, Thomas Barnes, Carl Smith and David Kemp.

There was present at the inquest, Moses Johnson, for the mines department; James Cardle, for the Mohawk mine; Jack Brooks, for the miners' union, and W. L. Warke, stenographer. Witnesses included, Dr. Reinhorn, Joe Salaka, Fred Hanor, Harry Sparks, Martin Stober and Sergt. Jones, of the A.P.P.

Retiring at 9 p.m., the jury returned at 9.35 with the following verdict:

"That John Cotton came to his death at about 3 a.m. on June the fifth, 1928, at about one quarter mile from the main entrance to the Mohawk mine, Maple Leaf, Alberta, from causes unknown, there being no suspicious circumstances."

BLAIRMORE'S CONTRIBUTION TO PHEASANT FUNDS

The following parties have subscribed to the funds intended to help introduce pheasants into this district. The collection was made by Mr. L. L. Morgan, who states that the birds, which will cost $6.50 per pair, will be liberated in the district between Burmis and Pincher Creek.

The subscribers so far are as follows: G. A. Vissac $25.00, L. L. Morgan $13.00, D. Oliver $5.00, J. P. O'Neill $6.50, P. C. Montalbetti $2.00, C. J. Tompkins $2.00, Alex. Mooney $6.50, Arthur Grant $6.50, Carl Smith $6.50, J. B. Wilson $3.25, A. E. Ferguson $3.50, Joseph Olivier $13.00, W. J. Bartlett $6.50, Mark Sartorius $2.00. Total $101.25. Further contributions will be appreciated.

COUNCIL PURCHASES TRACTOR TO OPERATE GRADER

At a special meeting of the town council on Monday night, it was decided to purchase a McCormick Deering tractor through a Lethbridge supply house, the total cost, including freight, etc., to be in the neighborhood of $1600.

A contract was also entered into with J. S. D'Appollonia, of Coleman, for the covering of a portion of Victoria Street east with crushed rock to a depth of six inches, twenty feet in width. This is somewhat in the nature of an experiment and is to cost around $2400. If the work proves satisfactory, a further contract may be entered into for the surfacing of the highway clean through to the chicken ranch.

Some opposition was entered by Capt. W. A. Beebe to the proposed extension of concrete sidewalks from his corner to the Green corner, claiming that such extension was unnecessary and that he was unwilling to pay any portion towards same.

"It was decided definitely to extend a water pipe line to the Protestant and Catholic cemeteries."

A car occupied by three Blairmores somersaulted at a point about five miles east of Fernie last night. The car was considerably damaged, while the occupants escaped with minor injuries.

Meanwhile thousands of dollars of tourist money are being engined up the Windermere, away from Crows' Nest towns. It is only when the citizens of these towns become irate enough to get after their local representative that we may expect results.—Fernie Free Press.

A bill introduced in the legislature of New Brunswick prohibits the erection of advertising billboards of any kind along the highways of the Province.

In the United States, Canada and Newfoundland the Carnegie Foundation has paid about $18,000,000 in pensions to college teachers since 1905.

Canada's acceptance of the principle of Frank B. Kellogg's anti-war campaign was received at Washington with satisfaction, and the movement to outlaw war is now considered as definitely launched.

Z. McInnes, assistant deputy minister of agriculture in the Alberta Government, died recently following a stroke. The late Mr. McInnes was born at Lakefield, Ont. in 1876. He came West in 1890.

Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith, the Australian flier, lived in Vancouver with his family from 1903 until 1912. The family came from Australia, returning there after nine years. The father, W. C. Kingsford-Smith, and the flier's elder brothers were in business while in Vancouver.

Sir George Frampton, the noted sculptor, who died recently, executed the Victoria memorial in Winnipeg. Other Victorian memorials from his hand are to be found in cities as far apart as Leeds, Newcastle and Calcutta. Sir George Frampton was also responsible for the memorial to Nurse Cavell.

W. D. Gregory, prominent Toronto barrister, announced that he would not accept the "K.C." offered him by the government. This is the second time that Mr. Gregory has refused this honor, the Drury government having offered it in 1921. "I feel strongly that the practice of giving certain barristers precedence is out of harmony with the Democratic standards that generally prevail in Canada," said Mr. Gregory.

Substantial Increase in Export of Wool From Canada

A very substantial increase is to be noted in the export of wool from Canada in the last fiscal year. This increased from 5,223,981 lbs. worth $1,538,680 the year before, to 11,140,101 lbs., worth $3,149,967.

According to the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers, Limited, wool prospects are very good with the condition of the new wool bright and the shrinkage average. Foreign market conditions are also reported excellent.

No More Idle Boast

Canada Holds Supremacy in Realm of Poultry

Poultry raisers in Canada are "all in on top of the world"—at least on top of the chicken world.

The World's Poultry Congress, at Ottawa, was a manifestation of Canada's supremacy in the realm of poultry. This is no mere idle boast. We have the best egg grading law in the world. We have a system of record of performance for poultry that is indeed unique and highly beneficial. Canada boasts of the champion laying hen; and what comes nearest to the poultry raiser, perhaps, is that Canadians are almost insatiable in their egg eating habits. In less than ten years the consumption per capita has increased by approximately ten dozen eggs. We are now consuming eggs in Canada at the rate of 28 1/2 dozen per capita, and this commendable habit, a result, no doubt, of our efficient egg grading law, is a boon to the whole poultry industry.

We are marching forward steadily in the matter of poultry husbandry. It is being appreciated more and more how breeding and selection will boost production. Flock owners are demanding eggs and chicks from selected parents that are known to be good layers and breeders. Eggs and chicks of known quality are available, and this is no longer necessary to purchase eggs or day-old chicks that are little more than question marks. We have progressed far enough so eggs and chicks of known quality are available, and this is no longer necessary to purchase eggs or day-old chicks that are little more than question marks. Farmers' Marketing Tour

Canadian National Railways' Tour To Great Britain and Denmark, 1923

Before entertaining us to lunch Mr. Marsh gave a very informative and comparative talk on the Canadian bacon industry, illustrating his remarks with a number of slides of bacon from many different countries and special cuts arranged for the purpose.

From the Marsh and Baxter plan we proceeded direct to Birmingham, where we were received by the Lord Mayor, Alderman A. H. James, C.B.E., J.P., after which we were taken through the magnificent City Hall and shown some of the art treasures there. In the evening we saw a charming musical comedy "The Lark," a block of the best seats in the house having been reserved for us.

Sunday was spent quietly in Birmingham, our itinerary including a motor tour of the environs of the city and a talk on Denmark by Mr. J. Nugent Harris of London. Mr. Harris had lived for some years in Denmark, and his love for that country shone all through his delightful address, which was accompanied by a remarkable selection of Danish slides. On Monday morning, after a brief tour of the Birmingham Museum, we proceeded south to Kenilworth Castle, one of the most interesting baronial ruins in England. Kenilworth dates from 1120, and was presented in 1362 by Queen Elizabeth I. for her favorite, Robert Dudley, who was killed at the battle of Marston in 1585.

Our next stop was Warwick, Warwick Castle, situated in the Midlands, is still occupied by the Warwick family. Warwick is a fine old town, with winding streets and many ancient buildings. The castle, which was visited by some of our party, is one of the best preserved of the old castles of the town. The earliest building dates from the 10th century although the present castle is 15th century.

Shakespeare's country is a few miles from Warwick. The house which Shakespeare was born remains little altered, and wandering through the rooms we saw on walls and ceilings the signatures of many famous visitors, amongst them Scott, Carlyle, Thackeray and Browning. The village of Stratford-upon-Avon is about a mile away. It was a delight to visit this beautiful and well preserved old place, today the property of the nation. The cottage contains much of the old furniture and many of the old fittings. We also visited Holy Trinity Church, set amid the trees on the bank of the Avon. Here Shakespeare is buried and here also is the grave of his wife. The font at which Shakespeare was christened is still to be seen in this church and the parish register, containing a record of his birth on April 23rd, 1564, and of his death on April 23rd, 1616, is also preserved.

Our stay at Oxford was short, but we were fortunate in being able to stroll through the grounds of one of the colleges and in seeing the memorials to the poet Shelley. The statue, beautifully wrought in marble, shows the drowned poet lying exactly as he was found after having been washed up by the sea. When first set up its stark realism created a sensation.

Our next stop was at Windsor Castle, which is still used by the Royal Family. Here we were privileged in seeing the State Apartments, the magnificence of which words fail to describe.

The castle overlooks the River Thames and has been the place of residence of English kings for centuries. Here James I. of Scotland, King John, of France, and King David, of Scotland, were held prisoners, and in one of the gardens James I. saw from his prison John Beaufort, his future wife.

A vault in the castle in which repose the remains of Henry VIII., Charles I., and Queen Jane Seymour, is connected by a subterranean passage to another vault where are buried George III., George IV., William IV. and Edward VII. Queen Victoria and her daughter, Princess Alice, are buried in Frogmore Mausoleum near Windsor.

Near Windsor Castle is Eton College, which was founded by Henry VI. in 1540.

From Windsor we proceeded to the King's farm, to be shown over the buildings by Mr. Murray Conacher, the manager. Mr. Conacher paraded some of the King's Prize Hensford and showed us fine examples of Devon and Jersey breeds. The Royal Farm is 1,200 acres in extent. Before leaving we were entertained to a delightful tea in the Royal Dairy.

This was our last stop before London, and excitement was at fever heat as we proceeded down the magnificent paved road which lead from Windsor to the Metropolis. Night was falling as we threaded our way through the steadily increasing traffic. Double deck buses with which we were to become more familiar in London, began to make their appearance as we reached the outskirts of Greater London. At last after passing many unbroken miles of country, we found ourselves in Oxford Street, then Regent Street, and finally at our hotel, the Regent Palace. Just off Piccadilly Circus in the very heart of the West End.

We rose bright and early on our first day in London, for we had several engagements facing us, including the reception by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales. Our first trip was to Covent Garden, once the garden and burial ground of London, but now London's greatest distributing centre for fruit and vegetables. Here we were given our first inkling of the enormous consuming power of the people of Greater London, for we saw upon one day's supply of fruit and vegetables for a population equal to Canada. It was easy to believe that one province of Spain could furnish 1,000,000 cases of oranges to this great market, and a great pleasure to learn that some varieties of Canadian apples had won a leading place in public favor.

Our next engagement was to visit the Cockspur Street offices of the Canadian National Railways, where we were cordially received by Mr. C. J. Smith, the European Vice-President, together with his department chiefs. The run of this fine building, owned by the C.N.R., was given to us, and we had the pleasure of seeing the latest copies of Canadian papers. An interesting feature of the fine offices, which house a busy staff of some one hundred people, is a magnificent mural frieze by Frank Brangwyn, R.A.

Canada Spends Millions Yearly On Importation Of Nuts

Canada imports something like $5,000,000 worth of nuts annually, but this figure includes peanuts, which are, of course, tubers and not tree nuts. In the last calendar year imports of nuts totalled $4,973,000, of which peanuts accounted for $1,490,000, leaving $3,483,000 as the value of tree nuts imported. Walnuts, shelled and unshelled, valued at $1,457,000, slightly exceeded peanuts in importance. Imports of almonds totalled about $322,000. Filberts, hazels and pecans were imported in quantities of about $100,000 each. Walnuts and these are also among the varieties of tree nuts which can be grown in Canada.

SCALLOPED DISHES

Pour over layers of well-seasoned meat, fish or vegetable enough medium cream sauce to cover. Sprinkle well with buttered crumbs and bake until brown. When combined with macaroni, use thin cream sauce. Medium cream sauce calls for 1 cup milk, 2 tablespoons flour, and 2 tablespoons butter. Thin cream sauce calls for 1 cup milk, 1 tablespoon flour and 1 tablespoon butter.

ORANGE STRAWBERRIES

1 box strawberries.
Juice 2 oranges.
1 cup sugar.
1/2 cup heavy cream.
2 tablespoons powdered sugar.
1 teaspoon vanilla.
Wash and hull strawberries, cover with orange juice, mixed with one cup cream and thoroughly stirred. Serve in champagne glasses. Beat the cream until stiff. Add powdered sugar and vanilla, and with the pastry-bag and tube, pipe a border around each glass.

Travelling Clinic in Alberta

Visiting Sparingly Settled Districts Where Medical Services Are Hard To Obtain

During the month of May, a travelling clinic, with two doctors, a dentist and three nurses, is touring through the northern sections of Alberta. The travelling clinic is a new phase of public health work, developed to cope with conditions in sparsely-settled districts where medical and dental services are difficult to obtain. Where there are doctors or dentists, the clinic co-operates with them. It does educational work, examinations and, in special cases, minor operations.

Solved The Difficulty

The Slaves twins, Lucio and Simplicio Godino, who live at Manila, Philippine Islands, have lost their automobile driving licenses because police cannot decide how to arrest whichever one violates a traffic law without risking suit for false arrest by the other, and innocent, twin. The twins drove so enthusiastically that they got frequent notice from the police.

A little boy was sent by his mother with a note to the clinic doctor. The doctor opened the note, which read:

"Please, will you do something for Willie's face. He's had it for a long time, and it's spreading."

"The most foolish persons are those who answer everything with a question."

"Do you think so?"—Buen Humor, Madrid.

THE CRUCIFIXION

Golden Text: "God commendeth His own love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us."—Romans 5:8.

Lesson: Mark 15:10-47.
Devotional Reading: Isaiah 53:7-12.

Explanations and Comments

The Crucifixion, verses 22-27.—They led Jesus away to be crucified, going outside the city, as was usage Jewish usage (Acts 7:58); to Golgotha (Golgotha means "the place of a skull"). We call the spot Calvary, from the Latin word calvaria, skull. It was customary to give one about to be crucified a stuporific drink, and they offered such to Jesus, wine mixed with myrrh, but He refused it. Matthew says He tasted it and then refused it. Jesus regarded the suffering before Him as part of the cup which He had to drink, and He drank, and He would drink it to the dregs.

The garments of the crucified—the headpiece, shoes, outer garment, girdle, and seamless inner robe—were His to serve as the executioner and the soldiers cast lots to see what each should have.

"There is much alarm over this tragedy, but the world will have to get over this tendency to shudder at horrible things, for as events are treading all the nations grow more fully armed than ever they were in the past. There are those who declare that war is in this world unavoidable, that tribes and nations have always warred with each other and always will, and that those are visionaries who believe that through the League of Nations, arbitration, and world courts war can be outlawed and prevented. The jingoism may be right, but if they are, mankind is insane to drift towards war when the evidence of the utter destruction that it will fall upon great centers of civilization is so abundantly evident.—Regina Leader.

The Terrors Of
Modern Warfare

Enough Poison Gas Stored Up To Destroy Millions Of People

The explosion of poison gas at Hammburg, Germany, the other day, killing eleven persons and sending over three hundred others to hospital, has naturally attracted a good deal of attention. Because this happened by accident during peace it is regarded as quite a tragedy. Yet the poison gas, in killing people, served the purpose for which it was created. It is made and intended for use in the wholesale murder of human populations, and it is figured that in various countries at the present time enough of it is in stock and stored up to destroy millions of people. The danger from Hammburg told how this gas killed human beings, animals, birds, trees, and all vegetation with which it came in contact. It is very thorough. It leaves behind it complete desolation.

There is much alarm over this tragedy, but the world will have to get over this tendency to shudder at horrible things, for as events are treading all the nations grow more fully armed than ever they were in the past. There are those who declare that war is in this world unavoidable, that tribes and nations have always warred with each other and always will, and that those are visionaries who believe that through the League of Nations, arbitration, and world courts war can be outlawed and prevented. The jingoism may be right, but if they are, mankind is insane to drift towards war when the evidence of the utter destruction that it will fall upon great centers of civilization is so abundantly evident.—Regina Leader.

Tires Last Four Minutes

Length Of Time Guaranteed For Speed Of 200 M.P.H. As New

One of the most important factors in the success of a racing automobile is the tires. When Major Seagrave was assembling the car in which he attained a speed of more than two hundred and seven miles an hour at Dayton beach, a record later broken by Capt. Malcolm Campbell, he consulted an expert as to the best tires for his racer. After a series of elaborate tests, the man replied: "We have built these for you and I can guarantee you three and one-half minutes' life at two hundred miles an hour for each tire."

They stood the trial as did other parts of the racing car, but the Seagraves' car was an amazing record, time compared with the life of the average automobile tire, shows how close to the breaking point the "super-racers" are constructed and what terrific strains are exerted upon them.

Will Explore North

One Man Sub-Polar Expedition In a Motor Boat

Another sub-polar expedition is about to set out. It will be a one-man affair, by E. F. McBee, of Eugene, Ore., and the route will be from Edmonton to Athabasca, down the Athabasca and Mackenzie Rivers, inside passage to Prince Rupert, and back by rail to Edmonton. All the water part of this trip will be made in a 14-foot motor-boat.

Mr. McBee is now making arrangements for his big adventure. The trip is so long in which he proposes to sail the northern waters came to Edmonton in tow behind a small car and is being shipped to Athabasca, where it will take to the water.

The Conscientious Word

A rich but eccentric man died. The clergyman, who was young and new to the parish, thought it a fitting opportunity to call and comfort the widow. "You are under no griefs," he told her. "The body that lies here is not your husband. It is merely a husk, an empty shell—the nut has gone to heaven."

Sam had been in our law courts. He had listened to many learned friends disagreeing with other learned friends, and he had become some of a learned friend himself. He had one rule, "admit nothing—deny everything—remember you were not there when it happened." So, when a well-dressed young man came asking for a Finnish girl with red hair, Sam knew nothing. In Sam's limited sphere the relations between men and women were elemental and simple. Maybe the police wanted his red-haired girl—that might be. Well, Sam did not want to lose her, she was a good girl, honest girl—she rang up the right change. Sam did not usually trust any white girl with change, but he was glad now that he had found one whom he could not catch, for it might be she was honest all the time.

"No," Sam did not know—Sam did not know anything. Sam did not tell Helmi, either, "nice girl, Helmi—wants fella, she could get plenty—no use getting nice girl all excited."

Helmi went back to the "Good Eats Cafe" one day to see if it would be possible for her to be given longer hours. The dollar a night was not going to be sufficient for her needs. Her room rent was fifteen dollars a month, and even at that she suspected the Corbets were paying some of it. She would like to go to work at two o'clock in the afternoon if Sam could arrange it. He had been away for a few days and another Chinaman had taken her in charge.

When Helmi arrived old Sam was at his accustomed place behind the desk, very elegant in a new black suit and a white tie. He wore a white flower in his buttonhole, and resembled a church usher on Mother's Day. Helmi remembered how they looked in Miss Abble's church. He was very friendly with her, and bowed cavalierly over her hand. Helmi had learned to suspect polite men of being drunk, but old Sam was always sober. The date, too, was festive in its appearance. Flowers in bloom were on the tables. A drooping fuchsia in the window rained its crimson and purple blossoms down like a spraying fountain, and squares of embroidery hung on the walls. Helmi wondered at the change. It must be some Chinese holiday, she thought.

Sam came around from the desk to greet her, and she noticed further improvement—Sam had false teeth, with some gold ones. His nails were daintily manicured and his hands heavily perfumed. "Nice led-halped girl," he said, shaking her hand aside. "Kid, I could tell you. Old Sam got nice little white girl now all his own. Soon she come, my girl—grand girl. Mrs. Sam Lee—drive big car—my girl."

As he spoke a big gray car with silver mountings drew up to the curb, and a lady in a scarlet suit came out. She came into the "Good Eats Cafe" filling the doorway with color, like some strange tropical bird. Helmi's eyes were so dazzled by the vision that in her admiring survey she had not yet reached the face.

A shout came from under the drooping black hat, and the beaming lady bore down upon Helmi. "Helmi, my love, come to me! I always knew I would find you."

"Rose Lamb!" cried Helmi, breathless with excitement. "Rose, are you out?"

"Hush," cautioned Rose, dimpling and drawing her shoulders up. "I was never in. You and I met at a Young Ladies' Seminary—no tradesman's daughters allowed—remember? Not that good old Sam minds—he's been in jail, and it makes them broad to go to jail; but for the sake of my social position, mum's the word. Sam, take you for two places. Sit down Helmi, and let me look at you."

Have you been converted lately? O Lord, do you remember how we were prayed over? I got to be their little pet lamb—pure as the driven snow—but I drifted! Well, where have you been?"

Helmi told her. "Married? That's bad. But I knew it. I saw it in you—were that kind. And your man has sort of been mislaid, temporarily. He is only a miner—let him go—his beastly poor pay, I hear."

"But I want him to come back," said Helmi. "I love him, Rose. Of course you do, and you have a baby, and I suppose you keep it too."

"I sure do," said Helmi.

Sam Lee had gone into the kitchen, and Helmi leaning close to Rose, said: "Rose, did you marry old Sam?"

"Kid, you've said it," replied the bride; "sure did—license, ring and all. Sam's best widower, Rose Anna, lamb, spinster—Anglican clergyman doing the job."

"Rose, how could you? He is not only a Chinaman, but old—very old; he must be at least sixty."

"Don't kid yourself—he's eighty."

"Wouldn't look at anyone else sixty—he might outlive me. Sam is safe—he'll snuff out like a gentleman. Little Rose, all alone—think of it—with some forty thousand bones. How's that?"

"No good," said Helmi, shaking her head; "no good."

"Kid, I couldn't work. I hate dishwater and I couldn't scrub—it always made my nose sore. I had work and what could I do? If I had lots of money I'd run straight. Old Sam is not so bad, and the gray car is a pippin."

Come and see our house, Helmi! It's awfully close of blue and red, with one little sea house in the corner; tapestries in gold blossoms, lamps of hammered brass—oh, come and see it. Sam, some more ginger! Thanks, old top. Lots of room for you, too, Helmi. I give you a room in red and gray with fresh flowers every morning. Come Helmi, let's have a little run in the car. I've been pinched once for speeding, but I'm careful now. I want to tell you about what happened after the left."

Helmi went with Rose to the car and stepped in after her. The sudden rush of air, the delightful feeling of motion, the sensation of freedom, with these Helmi's fears fell away. Impulsively she hugged her friend's arm, and Helmi, Rose, its good to see you, she said.

Two men on the sidewalk regarded them closely. One watched them with wicked-wise eyes, cynical and hard, the other gleam of gladness in them due to his suspicions being verified. The other man's eyes burned with a great sorrow and a bitter disappointment.

"You see what I said," remarked the first, "that Sam driving the car is well known in the underworld. Later she has come here as the mistress of a rich Chinaman. The Finnish girl is one of the gang, as you can see. Mr. Doran, you are well out of it."

Jack leaned back against the doorway, sick at heart.

"Now I want to tell you something," said Major Gowssett, for it was he; "that girl has no legal hold on you. Col. Blackwood did not record the marriage. He knew her history. You see, she has therefore no hold on you, so do not worry about that."

Jack turned away without speaking.

The loom of life went on with its weaving, but from Helmi's life the golden thread had gone. But, of course, the flying shuttles cannot stop to look for ends. The loom of life does the best it can with the threads. Its shuttles are able to bring, but it takes no responsibility for the pattern.

CHAPTER XXVI

Mrs. Kalmiski and Mrs. Corbett were having a cup of tea in the latter's big room one afternoon when Mrs. Corbett had finished her duties as janitor's wife who could be got by the hour to "do out" rooms for the tenants.

"I've turned out Mrs. Rowan and Mrs. Sander today, given Mrs. Brown a lick and a promise, and put Mrs. Fickelbach off until tomorrow," said Mrs. Corbett, as she sat the peanut butter and strawberry jam on the table and proceeded to cut slices from the loaf. Mrs. Kalmiski was still "waiting."

"It's a long time—the last month," said Mrs. Corbett soothingly, "sure every day brings it one day nearer, and it's yourself has everything ready and fine and nothing to do but to hop into bed and call the neighbors and good old Dr. Eckhardt. I never saw a woman any readier than you are, with the name and all."

The worst thing about a man who is discouraged is that he can't be come happy again until he has discouraged everybody else.

Made Himself Human Carrier

Doctor Missionary From China Infected Himself With Germs To Combat Disease

Carrying the germs of disease in a glass bottle is much more comfortable than carrying them in the body, according to Dr. C. H. Barlow, doctor-missionary from China. Dr. Barlow, who has spent the past twenty years in the Orient, has tried both methods and, therefore, regards himself as an authority.

"Thousands of lives are lost every year among Chinese who are foolish enough to eat the ling, or water nut, in the raw state," said Dr. Barlow on arriving at Victoria recently from the Orient. "The disease claims its victims usually about three years after infection, and it occurred to me that during that period there surely should be some way of checking the thing and making the patient well. But there were no means of examining the parasites in China; no microscope powerful enough."

"It remained for me to take the germs to the United States. I tried separating the germs and putting them in bottles, but they died on the way across the Pacific. The only way out seemed to be to find a human carrier. I chose myself, infected myself with the germ and then hastened to the United States. I was cured, more or less, but I still feel effects of the disease sometimes."

Since that first trip, however, Dr. Barlow has discovered a more convenient way of carrying the germs. He keeps the parasite eggs alive in a bottle by a special contrivance, and when he landed here he had dozens of them safely sealed in glass.

"We're making progress towards eradication of the disease," the doctor stated. "If we had $300,000 at our disposal, we could stamp it out altogether."

Our Foreign Words

Few People Know That Hundreds of Words Used Every Day

How many foreign words do you use in a day? Perhaps hundreds.

It is true that by usage many words have become part of our own speech, but pool is Keltic, ill is Scandinavian, yacht is Dutch, waits is German, pivotum is Greek, and extra is Latin.

Nearly every military term is French, grenade is Spanish, macaroni is Italian, eagle is Portuguese, chintz is Hindi, kiosk is from Hebrew, alcohol is Arabic, bash is Turkish, saga is Malayan, and tea is Chinese.

Sores Heal Quickly.—Have you a persistent sore, refuse to heal? Then, try Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil in the dressing. It is a recognized healer among all the numbers of people who are certain that it healed where properly applied.

SUMMER COMPLAINT Nearly Lost Her Little Girl

Mrs. Theodore Bivett, Anthony, Ont., writes: "Last July I nearly lost my little girl as she was suffering terribly from summer complaint. She became very thin and weak; had no appetite, and even hardly walk across the room without falling down. At last my mother advised me to get a bottle of

ALBERTA LOSES APPEAL
IN MINE OWNERS' TAX ACT

LONDON, June 12.—The appeal of the province of Alberta in its case against the Caledonian Collieries was dismissed today by the judicial committee of the privy council. The question at issue was as to whether the Alberta Mine Owners' Tax Act of 1913 was beyond the power or authority of the province of Alberta, which the collieries contended was attempting to impose indirect taxation. The case came from the supreme court of Canada.

EDMONTON, June 12.—The validity of the Alberta Mine Owners' Tax Act and a potential revenue of $300,000 a year to the province was at stake, in the appeal taken to the privy council by the Alberta government, of a test case against the Caledonian Collieries.

The question is one of the right of the province to collect a tax on every ton of coal mined in Alberta and the decision hinged on whether or not such tax is a direct or indirect one. Most of the coal operators had paid the tax up to date when judgment of the supreme court of Canada states that the levy was ultra vires of the province.

The privy council appeal is from a judgment of the supreme court of Canada which reversed the decision of the Alberta court of appeal in favor of the province's right to collect the tax.

TRAIN UP HUSBAND

Age does not count much in Chinese marriages. It is not uncommon for a Chinese boy of 12 to be married to a woman of 20 or 25. Usually she is selected by the bridegroom's mother, who then uses her daughter-in-law for a household assistant. If her husband's mother dies, the wife then assists her father-in-law in bringing up the boy in a way that will turn him into a model husband.—Ex.

CORRESPONDENCE

Blairmore, Alberta, June 14.

Mr. Editor:

Is it not time that citizens of Blairmore took notice as to how their money is being spent?

The council have given an order and a contract for work that the government offered to do for them a year ago, and the government was to look to the Town of Blairmore for their fifty per cent of cost. Now, the town will have to look to the government for their fifty per cent.

True, the government wanted to have charge, and why not? They have all the machinery, and engineers that know how to build or fix up a road.

The town has as much use for a tractor as an elephant has for a mouse.

Wouldn't the citizens appreciate it if the council would first connect up the sidewalks they have at the intersections, especially across Fifth Avenue on Victoria Street. With a tractor, they are adding to the already scrap cemetery.

Heals Eczema and Other Skin Diseases

Must Give Results in 7 Days or Money Back

Make up your mind today that you are going to give your skin a real chance to get well.

Like a lot of other people, you've probably been convinced that the only thing to use was an ointment or salve (some of them are very good) but the big majority of cases these sticky salves simply clog the pores and the condition primarily remains the same.

Go to any good druggist today and get an original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil.

The very first application will give you relief and a few short treatments will thoroughly convince you that by sticking faithfully to it for a short while your skin troubles will be a thing of the past.

Remember that Moore's Emerald Oil is a clean, powerful, penetrating Antiseptic Oil that does not stain or leave a greasy residue and that it must give complete satisfaction or your money cheerfully refunded.

A Bunch of "Setters"

"Where were you boys when I called for you to help me an hour ago?" asked Farmer Jones at the supper table.

"I was in the barn settin' a hen," said one.

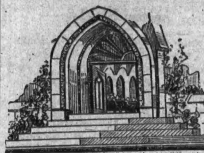

"And I was in the loft settin' a saw," answered another.

"I was in grandma's room settin' the clock," came from the third boy.

"I was in the pantry settin' a trap," said the fourth.

"You're a fine set," remarked the farmer. "And where were you?" he asked, turning to the youngest.

"I was on the doorstep settin' still," was the reply.

ST. LUKE'S CHURCH

Rev. N. Blunt, of Pincher Creek, will conduct services on Sunday next, 17th June, as follows—

Sunday School—10:15 a.m.

Morning Service—11 a.m.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Lemire, is St. Vincent's hospital, Pincher Creek, a son.

Mrs. Scott, of Coaldale, is at present the guest of her sister, Mrs. Tench, and family.

Miss Doris McEwen, who is employed with a business firm in Lethbridge, is spending a few days with her parents here.

Miss Essie Bennett and the Misses Morrison (Jean and Isobel) have returned from Calgary, where they attended the past term of normal school.

The Cowley junior baseball team played against the Pincher Creek juniors on Saturday afternoon. The score was six to seven in favor of Pincher Creek.

On Thursday and Friday, around three inches of rain fell in the district, this making the farmers feel very optimistic on the prospects of a bumper crop.

On Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Leigh gave a children's party in honor of Verdun's twelfth birthday. The little guests were: Verdun Leigh, Edith Murphy, Muriel Maylow, Dorothy Day, Dorothy Stainsby, Hazel Stainsby, Eileen Porter, Jean Porter, Josephine Porter, Barbara Bundy, Clara Bundy, Bessie Cooper, Metta Swart, Ketha Tustian and Marion Morrison.

On Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, a very able discourse was delivered in the United church here by Rev. J. H. Gardes, B.D., of Pincher Creek. He took as his text: "Lo, all the days." He was assisted by Rev. J. W. Smith, B.D., of Blairmore, and Rev. Mc. Griffith. In spite of bad roads, a large congregation was present. After the service, a business meeting was held.

Mrs. W. A. Vaughn is able to be around after a couple of weeks' illness.

TIPS TO PROSPECTIVE

BRIDEGROOMS

London—The Vicar of St. Philip's church is not altogether satisfied with the deportment and reprobates of bridegrooms in his Battersea district. In his magazine he gives the following tips to prospective bridegrooms:

"Don't rush at the blushing bride when she joins you at the Chancel steps and shake hands with her. One bridegroom did this at a recent wedding and exclaimed 'Ow are yer, mate!'"

"When the priest tells you to say after him God's Holy Ordinance," don't say 'God's Holy audience.' Some of the apocryphes we have seen at recent weddings here could never by any stretch of imagination be called holy.

"It is always best to refrain from drinking anything stronger than tea before the ceremony. The smell of alcohol is rather objectionable and especially in church."

"When the clergyman asks you to say 'Truth,' please don't say 'Trough.' The former means faith, fidelity, truth; the latter anything hollowed and open longitudinally on the upper side."

JUNIOR TENNIS TOURNAMENT

The return match between the Coleman and Blairmore junior tennis clubs was played at Blairmore on June 9th, Blairmore winning seven of the eight events played. Rain halted the tournament before all the events could be completed.

The results of the events played were as follows:

Men's singles—J. McPhail beat E. Price 6-2, 6-0, F. Farmer beat B. McLeod 6-2, 6-5, H. McPhail beat H. Clifford 6-3, 6-3.

Men's doubles—D. Mackenzie and H. McPhail beat W. Fraser and W. Ballack 6-3, 6-4.

Ladies' singles—B. Thompson beat D. Burns 6-2, 6-5, L. Fraser beat M. Bell 6-2, 2-6, 6-3.

Ladies' doubles—B. Thompson and E. Bennett lost to D. Burns and E. Greenhalgh 6-2, 1-6, 6-3; L. Fraser and M. Thompson beat M. Bell and E. Fairhurst 6-4, 6-0.

East Is Coming West.

The recently announced decision of the General Motors Corporation of Canada to proceed immediately with the erection of a million dollar manufacturing and assembly plant in Regina is gratifying news, not alone to the citizens of the capital city of Saskatchewan, but to all Westerners because it indicates that at long last the leaders of industry in the East have come to a realization of the fact that they cannot continue indefinitely to supply the rapidly growing western market from factories located thousands of miles away, and compelling the western purchaser to pay greatly enhanced prices by reason of freight charges based upon the high classification imposed upon finished articles.

Western people have contended for some time now that the logical industrial development in Canada is the establishment of branch factories in the West. There was a time, not more than a couple of decades ago, when the view prevailed that the western market could be supplied not only from Eastern factories, but from Eastern wholesale houses. Gradually, as western population grew and the volume of business increased, branch wholesale houses were opened in Winnipeg, and since they have gradually spread all over the West, until today wholesale establishments located in all the larger western centres of population very largely supply western needs.

The same development which thus characterized the business of wholesaling and distribution must inevitably now follow in the work of manufacturing itself. Freight charges on the transportation of necessary raw materials into the West will be substantially lower than charges on the finished products, while the opening of western factories may, in all probability, will encourage the production for use of certain raw products of the West which they have developed because of a lack of market.

The decision to locate branch industries in the West is furthermore pleasing to Western people because it indicates recognition by Eastern industrial leaders of the fact that, if they are to command the support and sympathy of the West, and if past lines of separation between east and west are to be wiped out, and a new national viewpoint developed, the East cannot continue to merely accept the cream of western trade and profits in years of good crops and times of plenty, but must come west and throw in their lot more wholeheartedly with the people here and, while benefitting in years of abounding prosperity, also carry their share of the burden in years of slim crops and business depression.

With wonderful activity prevailing in the work of prospecting and developing the immense mineral areas of the northern portions of the three prairie provinces, with large schemes of power development now receiving attention, and with the new, larger, more national viewpoint gaining headway among the financiers and industrial leaders of the East, there is every reason for saying that a new era in the history of Western Canada is opening.

While the West will long continue to excel as an agricultural country, and will steadily expand its annual production from its rich prairie lands, it seems safe to predict that from this time onward industrial development will move along in keeping with the agricultural growth and mineral development of the country.

Such development offers the best and most practical solution of one of the West's big problems, namely, the unemployment difficulty which annually presents itself because of the seasonal nature of the basic industry of this country. In this connection it is pointed out that the "peak" period of production in Regina's new industry will be in the late winter and early spring months, before active outdoor building operations, railway construction and road making gets under way, and when under present conditions unemployment is at its maximum.

Viewed from all standpoints, therefore, the whole West can unite in welcoming the momentous decision of one of Canada's greatest industrial concerns to establish a large branch plant in the heart of the prairie west. Its action will be but the forerunner of many similar decisions by other large manufacturers, and a resultant development from which every Western centre, and every Western citizen, will benefit.

Air Patrol On Hudson Straits

Straits Open For Navigation Much Earlier Than Even Friends Of Route Anticipated

Flying operations have been resumed in Hudson Straits, and reports from the air bases reveal that the ice has already cleared out of the eastern end of the channel and is broken up in the centre and western sections. It is the opinion of the air men and marine officials stationed in the straits that an ice breaker could open a channel right through the straits at present. No ice breaker is available, but the department announces that a vessel of this type will be available before next spring. The time when the straits will become easily navigable is as yet doubtful, but it is quite clear that ice conditions are not nearly as heavy a handicap as has hitherto been supposed and that the straits will be open much earlier than even the friends of the route anticipated.

AVOID THE PAINS OF RHEUMATISM

This Trouble Comes Through Weak, Watery Blood

Many people suffer rheumatic pains that could be avoided by building up the blood. Rheumatism comes with thin, watery blood, and can only be driven out of the system by enriching and purifying the blood. To make rich, red blood no medicine equals Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills actually make new blood, driving out all poisonous secretions, and creating a solid, healthy health. Thousands of rheumatic sufferers can testify to the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. "I was a sufferer from rheumatism for years," writes Mr. J. A. Tully, Bobayevon, Ont., who says: "As a worker in the woods for years I was exposed to all kinds of rough wintry weather. The result was that I was finally laid up with rheumatism. I could hardly sit, and was confined to bed. Medicine seemed to have little or no effect and the best encouragement the doctor gave me was that with the coming of warm weather I would be better. But instead of getting better, I grew worse. My joints were badly swollen, and my legs so stiff they would hardly support my weight. I then read that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended for rheumatism and decided to try them. The results were beyond my expectations. After a few weeks the swelling had disappeared, and the stiffness gradually wore away, and much sooner than I expected all traces of rheumatism had disappeared. The next winter when I went into the woods I took a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with me, and they kept me in the best of condition. My experience should give encouragement to other rheumatic sufferers."

Great West Airways

First Commercial Flying Company On Prairies Is Established At Calgary

Backed by many of Calgary's prominent citizens, managed by Capt. F. R. McCall, D.S.O., M.C., D.P.C., and known as the Great West Airways, Limited, the first commercial flying company on the prairies west of Winnipeg, is expected to be in operation within one month, with Calgary as base, it is announced. The objects of the company are to carry on the business of aviation in its branches, including the giving of instruction to pilots and air engineers.

For Sprains and Bruises.—There is nothing better for sprains and contusions than Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. It will reduce the swelling that follows a sprain, will cool the inflamed flesh and draw the pain. It will take the ache out of a bruise by counteracting the inflammation. A trial will convince any who doubt its power.

Britain's Air Mail Grows.—Air mail deliveries in Britain are growing rapidly. Letters dispatched from London last year totalled 27,000 pounds, as compared with 17,000 in 1926. Air parcels were 74,000 pounds in 1927, and only 55,000 pounds in 1926. Ten thousand pounds of letters alone than Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. It will reduce the swelling that follows a sprain, will cool the inflamed flesh and draw the pain. It will take the ache out of a bruise by counteracting the inflammation. A trial will convince any who doubt its power.

Another New Job

Airplane Dispatchers Will Use Radio To Keep In Touch With Machines

Radio has paved the way for another new job—the airplane dispatcher. Much like his predecessor, who is responsible for the operation of trains without conflict in schedules, his task will be to keep airplanes going in the right direction and to give aid in cases of emergency. But the hand wires the train director uses are not to be part of the system. Radio will be the connecting link between ground and airplane.

The equipment that again will bring radio into practical contact with another of man's twentieth century accomplishments is being installed in the western sector of the transcontinental air route. Ground radiophone stations are being set up, and a dispatcher will be in charge of each one.

Most of the direction by radio will be done at night, when the plane's pilot must depend on his compass or light beacons spaced at intervals along his route. These beacons are erected on towers, and contain lights with a candlepower of 4,000,000.

With intermediate fields not further apart than thirty miles, and each equipped for dispatching by radio, the new service will remove much of the isolation from air transportation.

New Market For Purebred Hogs

B.C. Branch Of Canadian Swine Breeders' Association Cultivating Market In Antipodes

For the past year the secretary of the B.C. branch of the Canadian Swine Breeders' Association has been engaged in seeking new markets for purebred hogs, paying special attention to Australia and New Zealand. As a result many breeders have been reinvigorated, interest being stimulated by New Zealand's removal of the embargo on stock with a clean bill of health.

No Rest With Asthma.—Asthma usually attacks at night, the one time when rest is needed most. Hence the loss of strength, the nervous debility, the loss of flesh and other evils which must be expected unless relief is secured. Fortunately relief is possible. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has proved its merits through years of service. A trial will surely convince you.

Labor Shortage In Dawson

There is a scarcity of labor in the Yukon, particularly in Dawson and White Horse. Fifty to seventy-five laborers are needed during the summer season until the mining camps shut down about the first of October. The work offering is on dredges, hydraulics and around mining camps. Longshoremen's work is somewhat irregular later in the season, but fairly steady while ore shipments from Mayo are in progress. Wages on the Dawson coast are from 90 cents per ton to one dollar.

His 1928 gold medal for Science has been awarded by the Society of Arts and Sciences to Thomas A. Edison, the inventor. Plans for a large public testimonial in New York when the Medal is formally presented to Mr. Edison are nearing completion. FREE DENTAL SERVICE

Nearly One Thousand Saskatchewan People Given Free Treatment By Travelling Clinic

Nearly one thousand people in scattered sections of Saskatchewan, most of whom were from 40 to 125 miles from a dentist, were given free treatment by a travelling clinic. Most of these, moreover, would have been financially unable to secure it even if dental services had been easily available for them, otherwise.

Approximately 100,000 children throughout Saskatchewan were given a thorough mouth inspection and presented with charts showing the exact state of their oral health and telling them what should be done about it. Hundreds of addresses were delivered in all parts of the province. Moving pictures were shown in theatres and public halls from the U.S. Border to the far north and 95,000 books and pamphlets on dental health distributed free of charge. Over a thousand children wrote essays on mouth health and the foreign as well as the English-speaking population, was supplied with accurate information on the subject.

In brief, in a 60-day period, nearly 836,000 persons were given a course in preventive dentistry.

These are the results of an intensive Mouth Health Programme just completed here under the auspices of the Canadian Dental Hygiene Council. They are given in detail in the report of Dr. Harry S. Thomson, field secretary of the organization. This report, which is to be published shortly, tells the story of one of the most remarkable co-operative efforts for better general health which has ever been successfully attempted in the Dominion.

"Modernize" Your Farm This Modern Way

Nearly every building on the farm can be greatly improved and "modernized" by Gyproc.

This famous wallboard is recommended by leading contractors for both new and old construction because it gives advantages offered by no other material—fire-safety, rigid strength, economy and cold and heat resistance.

All these vital advantages! And you get them for nothing—because Gyproc costs no more than products that have none of Gyproc's remarkable qualities.

Gyproc makes durable, permanent walls and ceilings in less time and at less cost. Gyproc Joint Filler on the joints assures a smooth, flat surface which takes any decoration—particularly suitable for stucco.

PLANS MADE TO BROADEN WORK OF POOL

Regina.—At the final session of the third International Wheat Pool Conference held here, it was decided to broaden out the work of the International Conference. Under the new plan Co-operative Producers and Co-operative Consumers the world over may be brought together in one large co-operative body, but each retaining its identity as an individual co-operative unit. In this connection the following resolution was passed:

"Whereas the values to the various co-operative associations of meeting in conference have been established, be it resolved that national co-operative committees be formed for the purpose of furthering such conference and that such national committees appoint representatives to the International Pool Conference Committee."

Another important conclusion to which the delegates came was, that the International Conference again next year be left to the discretion of the International Committee which has charge of arranging details of this Conference.

In explanation of the national committee's resolution it was pointed out that the present International Conference Committee is representative only of wheat pools, wheat marketing organizations. The Conference this year had been widened in its scope and for the first time representatives of certain other co-operative organizations had been admitted as delegates.

By the formation of national committees, it was further stated during the discussion on the resolution, which would include representatives from Canada, the U.S.A., Australia, and possibly later on the Argentine or any other wheat exporting country, the existing committee was of opinion that a broader representation could be sent to the International Conference. The present International Conference is to remain in existence and make the first move toward the formation of these national committees. This will be done, it is indicated, by way of a call from the committee to all the co-operative organizations in Canada to meet and form a Canadian national committee. Following this representatives would be appointed who would join hands with those of similar nations at committees in the other countries that might desire to participate and thus the International Conference would be representative of all classes of co-operative producer endeavor.

Not Wanted in England

Harry Thaw Is Denied Permission to Land at Southampton.
Southampton, Eng.—Harry Thaw, arriving at Southampton aboard the Aquitania for a visit to England, was refused permission to land by the immigration officials. Thaw had obtained a British visa before leaving, but nevertheless was not allowed to land. He was informed that the home office had issued an order of prohibition and it is supposed that he will be obliged to return to New York on the Aquitania.

Many Nations Represented
Toronto.—It is expected that 65 nations will be represented in Toronto when the Baptist World Alliance holds its fourth congress here, June 25-29. About 7,000 delegates are expected, representing some 12,000,000 baptists throughout the world. The roll call of nations on Saturday, June 23, probably will be the most picturesque session.

No Evidence Of Grafting

Immigration Inquiry Report Examines Members Of Parliament

Ottawa.—The parliamentary immigration inquiry report was laid in the House of Commons. The document contains little of a drastic nature, but thirteen recommendations for the improvement of Canadian immigration activities in Canada.

Evidence in detail respecting the organization of the department of immigration was heard at thirty-six meetings of the special committee which conducted the inquiry. All phases of the department's immigration and colonization work—carried on both separately and in conjunction with governmental and voluntary organizations—were examined into and the testimony of a long list of witnesses was received.

Mr. M. J. McLaughlin, Regina, who made charges last summer that members of Parliament had trafficked in special immigration permits, was numbered among the witnesses.

The report contains no findings of wrongdoing or trafficking in special immigration permits by members of the Federal Parliament or others. Tabling of annual returns at each session of Parliament showing particulars of these permits granted is, however, suggested. Steps to speed up British immigration to Canada by improving the overseas medical inspection system and the granting of assistance to young Canadian agriculturists similar to that given by the British authorities to British emigrant boys feature the report. Efforts towards reduced ocean passage and railway rates are also advocated.

Pass Estimates For Defence Department

Amendment Presented To House On Cadet Training Deferred

Ottawa.—When estimates of the Department of National Defence were before the House of Commons, Miss Agnes MacPhail, Progressive, Southeast Grey, moved that a vote of $500,000 for cadet service be reduced to $3,000,000. Miss MacPhail's amendment was declared lost and the item listed carried.

During the debate, Miss MacPhail asked Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence, how he accounted for the fact that his report, which was the only one which interfered with education which was under provincial jurisdiction.

To this the minister replied that no training was carried out without the consent of the provincial governments. No teacher was compelled to take cadet training nor were any of the schools under compulsion to do so. He declared the strongest advocates of peace were those who had been there in military training in their youth.

Included in the votes were $2,315,000 for the non-permanent militia; $4,950,000 for the permanent force; $2,725,000 for the naval service; $1,500,000 for the Royal Canadian Air Force, and $3,100,000 for civil air operations.

Conducting Another Search For Fliers

Quebec Man Believes Nungesser and Col Lindbergh in Labrador

Quebec.—That he was morally convinced that the French fliers Nungesser and Col had landed with their monoplane, White Bird, somewhere in the Labrador country and that he had the intention of conducting a search party this summer in that district was the statement made here by Dr. Louis Guiselin. Dr. Guiselin has returned from Greenly Island, where he had gone to the rescue of the stranded crew of the Bremen. Dr. Guiselin said that the search party would be sent in specially equipped aeroplanes.

Burial Of Hon. C. W. Cross
Edmonton.—The funeral and interment of the late Charles W. Cross, K.C., first attorney-general of Alberta, and since 1905 prominent in public life in the province, was held last night.

The crown, the province, the city, bench and bar, the various learned professions, and men who are leaders in many diverse activities united in the last tribute. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Dr. D. G. McQueen, pioneer Edmonton pastor.

Change Is Approved
Toronto.—Reorganization of the Canadian Dental Association with provision of an executive body in which all provinces will have representation, was approved at the annual convention. Dr. J. W. Clay, of Calgary, president, stated the change would make for a strong national body.

Reindeer For Northern Canada

Would Supply Food For Eskimo Bands In Northern Areas

Ottawa.—Importation of herds of reindeer into the Mackenzie basin with a view to supplying food for the Eskimo bands which inhabit this remote part of Canada is being undertaken by the government.

In the House of Commons, when estimates of the department of Indian Affairs were under consideration, Hon. Charles Stewart, minister in charge of the department, told of a plan which had been suggested by the Eskimo in the past and the efforts which were being made to eliminate it.

Mr. Stewart also informed the House that the department was having some trouble providing relief for Indians in the Northern territories, and declared something must be done, in co-operation with provincial governments, to provide hunting grounds outside the present reserves. If placed in competition with white men the Indians would starve to death.

CONSUMERS OF BRITAIN HAVE NO FEAR OF POOL

Regina.—At the International Pool Conference held here, a message of goodwill was brought by the delegates from the British Isles.

Four distinguished visitors from England and Scotland told the conference of the desire of hundreds of thousands of co-operative consumers in the Old Land to remove the barrier that appears to exist as between the two classes of co-operatives and each work for the other in complete confidence with the one object in view—the creation of a truly co-operative body composed of both producer and consumer.

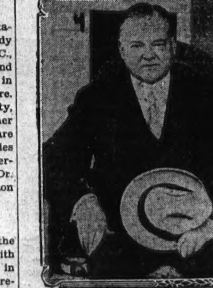

A. W. Gough, representing the English Co-operative Consumers' Organization, broke the ice on the question and told of the suspicion with which the creation of the wheat pools of Canada was viewed at the start. The Rochdale co-operative, he said, had had bitter experiences in the last 70 years with trusts and combines, and the formation of the wheat pools had first appeared to them as a trust in foreign guise.

He frankly told how his organization had wondered whether it meant another effort to squeeze the co-operative consumer, whether one class of co-operative would be set against another. He added that the power which the Canadian pools possessed in the economic structure of the world was enormous. "And we wondered how you were going to use that power," he said.

Alarm, however, had given way to admiration. "If an satisfied after meeting your leaders, after listening to inspiring addresses, after hearing your general sales manager, to go back to my friends in England and tell them that the Canadian people have adopted the best method of handling their product co-operatively," he added, amid loud and prolonged cheering from the delegates.

Mr. Gough's colleagues amplified his remarks and Peter Macdonald, the Scottish co-operative, caught the fancy of the audience by saying that his organization desired to buy the wheat of Western Canada, raised and sold in a co-operative way, in order to use it in the bread co-operatively made by his people and sold to those who were in his co-operative society. "The vessels that bring your co-operative grain to us should return to you with our co-operative made goods," he said.

PRESENTED AT COURT

Miss Ruth Draper, the American actress, caused a stir in English society when she was presented at court. In the past the understanding had been that it was useless for any actress to seek presentation while she was still actively engaged in her profession, but court officials have pointed out that the general ban on stage folk has been a dead letter since the days of Queen Victoria.

Agree On Peace Pact

No Difference Of Opinion Between Canada and Britain

Ottawa.—There is no conflict of opinion between the Prime Minister of Canada and Sir Austen Chamberlain, British Foreign Secretary, with regard to the proposed Kellogg treaty for outlawing war.

This was made clear by Premier Mackenzie King in the House of Commons, when he replied to a question put by E. J. Garland, U.F.A., Bow River.

Mr. Garland had drawn the attention of the Prime Minister to his answer to C. H. Cahan, Conservative, St. Lawrence-St. George, on May 18, when Premier King declared that it was erroneous to suggest that the British Government could not sign the Kellogg treaty without the concurrence of the Dominions.

Premier King referred Mr. Garland to his communication to Mr. Kellogg where he had set forth that the treaty would be submitted to parliament.

Request For Railway Cars

None Available And Fish Shipments Accumulating At Prince Rupert

Ottawa.—A request for railway cars to carry an accumulation of halibut from Prince Rupert, B.C. to the Eastern markets was made in the House of Commons by J. G. Brady, Conservative, Skeena.

Within the last few days 490,000 pounds of halibut have been brought to Prince Rupert ready for market. Only three cars were available and these had been secured by U.S. shippers. He asked the Minister of Railways to take some action to assist the Canadian shippers to obtain cars.

Hon. C. A. Dunning, Minister of Railways and Canals, promised assistance.

To Honor Airmen

Winnipeg, Man.—In honor of four gallant pioneers of the air, four new stations in the western region of the Canadian National Railways have been named Pitmanville, Lindbergh, Alcock and Hinchcliffe, and a fifth is to be called Endeavor, the name of the plane in which Walter Hinchcliffe and Hon. Elsie Mackay attempted to fly the Atlantic.

May Hold Exhibition Of Canadian Goods

Plan For Publicity Campaign In Britain Being Discussed

London.—Canadian products should become very well known in Britain if Farmers' scheme succeeds. Exhibitions of Canadian products are going to be held in the near future at Birmingham, Aberdeen, Belfast, Manchester, Glasgow, Dublin, Leeds, and Bristol, and a striking publicity campaign will be put into operation. A permanent staff, composed entirely of Canadians, will be created in London so as to be ready at any moment to run exhibition campaigns on behalf of Canadian products. Canadian artists will design the 'stalling and posters.

Farmers is staying two months in order to perfect the scheme, which has been welcomed by trading authorities and the British government as a noteworthy enterprise.

PROTEIN CONTENT BEST BASIS FOR GRADING WHEAT

Ottawa.—The proposal that the protein content be made the basis on which wheat be graded was dealt with by the committee on agriculture in its report submitted to the House.

It came to the conclusion that the present approach to an ideal index of the baking strength of wheat was by determining the variety and quantity of protein, the latter to be ascertained by chemical test. At present the baking strength is determined on the variety and percentage of hard kernels.

The report stated that so far as export trade was concerned there was not sufficient evidence as to the effect of the proposed change from the present system of grading to that of the protein test to warrant a recommendation that it be adopted, but did recommend that a full inquiry into that phase of the question be made.

The committee also urged that seed wheat should be maintained to collect and distribute seed of approved varieties; that an experimental farm be established and that inspectors be stationed at all transfer points between the Head of the Lakes and the westward in order to prevent mixing of wheat.

The changes, if carried out, would necessitate amendments to the Canada Grain Act.

The resolution states that in Canada, Great Britain and the U.S.A., and probably most other countries consuming Canadian wheat, baking strength was an important factor in deciding its value, and this strength means the quantity and quality of protein.

Except in the case of Durum wheat, at present graded in a class by itself, and possibly one or two other varieties grown in relatively small quantities, the protein in contract grades could be assumed to be good quality.

Cost of making protein tests should range from 50 to 75 cents, which would not be a serious difficulty notwithstanding the fact that laboratories would have to be installed at all inspection points. The committee suggested that data be obtained as to the cost of installing and maintaining laboratories. Individual tests would require about two hours. A large number of tests could be conducted simultaneously and there would be no delay in testing and dispatching cars to terminal points.

The definite proposal in the resolution could be put into effect instantaneously as car shipments were concerned but the committee was not satisfied that wheat sold locally in wagon loads could take advantage of this scheme. This practice of Kansas city wheat pool members, whereby farmers and elevators forwarded supplies jointly to laboratories, pointed a way to solution of the strong wheat problem and should be investigated.

Introduction of protein as a factor in wheat grading would be an incentive to grow the best milling varieties.

According to L. H. Newman, Dominion cerealist, and in the opinion of the agriculture committee, these grades are classed as desirable: Early Red Fife, Marquis, Ruby, Red Bob, Selections, Renfrew, Kitcheners, Garnet and Reward.

The cereal division of the Federal Department of Agriculture and provincial governments should continue efforts to zone Canada's wheat area with a view as to varieties most likely to prove satisfactory in each case.

The committee expressed the opinion that Ernest Wheat, hitherto excluded from No. 1 Northern, should be eligible for that grade.

WHEAT CROP IS IN EXCESS OF ESTIMATES

Winnipeg.—The wheat crop of the current year is greatly in excess of the estimates made last fall, according to figures given out by E. D. Cotterell, superintendent of transportation for the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Up to the end of May there had been marketed on the Canadian Pacific Railway 216,870,207 bushels, while the Canadian National reports 164,064,000 bushels, bringing the total of both lines up to 380,934,207 bushels.

Allowing 45,000,000 bushels for feed, seed and grit-mills brings the total accounted for up to date to 425,934,207 bushels, and reports show that there are still between 15 and 20 million bushels in the hands of the farmers for marketing.

Up to the end of May farmers marketed a total of 25,495,493 bushels of all grains on Canadian Pacific lines, as compared with 221,020,228 bushels last year, representing an increase of 34,475,266 bushels; loadings totalled 171,728 cars of all grain for the same period this year, as against 149,328 cars last year, showing that the Canadian Pacific is now 22,398 cars ahead of last year's figures.

The Vancouver movement has been particularly heavy, a total of 80,579 cars of all grain being loaded up to the end of May as compared with 13,798 last year, an increase of 16,780 cars. The export of grain from the port of Vancouver to the end of May amounted to 72,761,271 bushels as compared with 32,561,601 bushels last year.

Pension Changes Are Again Before Senate

Amendments Were Not Acceptable To House of Commons

Ottawa.—The pension bill with the Senate amendments which were unacceptable to the House of Commons was before the Senate again and referred to the same committee, with the addition of Senator Taylor, responsible for the amendments. The important issues in dispute are the right of appeal of dependents of pensioners from the decision of the pensions board and the right of widows who married pensioners subsequent to their disability from which they died.

At present there are 700 widows who would be eligible for pensions if the House of Commons proposal was adopted.

The pension law regarding dependents at present is that there is no appeal from the decision of the pensions board. The Commons amendment would permit of an appeal to the appeal board.

Planning To Bring Welshmen To Canada

Fifty Thousand Would Come If Dominion Government Gives Consent

Toronto.—Plans to bring 50,000 young Welshmen to Canada, suggested by Rev. A. L. Richards and approved by the British Colonial Office, are to be proceeded with if the Canadian Government gives its consent, Mr. Richards stated.

Mr. Richards blames the dole system in England for the present slump in Canadian immigration work over there. "Fellows who have never worked are standing around on street corners—young men of 17 and 20, and what is worse they are now marrying on the dole," he said.

Wilkins' Outline Plans

London.—Captain Sir George H. Wilkins and his pilot, Lieut. Nielson, arrived in London by air from Amsterdam, and in an interview told something of his plans for Antarctic exploration. He will leave for Panama, he said, about November 1, with his actual Polar flight to start later from King Edward VII. land, with its objective the area from Graham Land to the South of Cape Horn.

Brandon Gave Wet

Brandon, Man.—Brandon, noted prohibitionist centre of the province, went 'wet' when the electors voted in favor of the opening of beer parlors in the city. The vote was: "For" 3,214; "Against," 1,951, a majority of 1,263.

It has been suggested that it would be a good idea if those attending football and baseball games would separate their big nickles from their twenty-five cent pieces before leaving home, and, if possible, leave the nickles at home. It would save getting mixed up when the hat is being passed around. Only recently, a Scotchman dropped a brand new copper cent in a hat and demanded change for a five-dollar gold piece.

She stepped out into the road and peered carefully both ways from behind a bus. The girl was not so quick, and a man stepped off the pavement, coming between mother and daughter. "Now, dear, let's make a dash for it—quick!" and the woman seized the man's hand and rushed him unresistingly across the road and onto a hotel doorstep. Turning, she began: "I do think they ought—ought—" and stopped short in confusion and astonishment. The man gazed at her stupidly for a second and then said: "Thanks, ma'am, but I think I could have got across myself," and went his way.
